Joan Stutman bowls 588 set in quiet night

Joan Stutman topped the bowling beat with a 578 series as the gals and the fellows had a quiet night with not too many big scores being reported.

The Kegleettes at the Sunset Lanes was the league in which Joan hit the series high. Her top game was a 201.

Gina Hansen of the same loop notched a 214 singleton to garner the high-game honors. Her 508 series was one of the night's best.

Other good performers in this league included Muriel Pesrano (212) and Grace Viglioti (203-551).

With the Thursday Nite Mixed League at Bowling on the Green, Jo Frizalone (196) was not alone as Ruth Stasiak (373) and Edna Baila (208) joined in with good outings.

At the same lanes the Riviera Chateau Ladies League listed Jackie Lein (560), Millie Gulisano (209), Corinne Lucido (209) and Rose Pate (206) for turning in good scores.

The Mixed Revellers at Colonial boasted that Molly Buocevo shot 211 and John Gherzo rolled 620.

Top series for the men was a 629 by Frank Ferraro in the Sunset Lanes Men's Handicap League.

The Richmond Answering Service League at the Green had the right number in the 240 game that Dewey Coscia rang up. It took high-game honors.

The American Legion League the home for runner-up game high as Art McGeehan shot 248, and the runner-up for series high as Babe Parente totalled 628.

How erect should you stand in the alamey?

As erect as you like, but if you are more comfortable bending slightly forward, do so. Stance is your own creation and the secret is simply to get comfortable and relaxed. Never because tense. Learn to relax, and recognize that which suits you. Hold the ball anywhere between chin and knees that you find the most comfortable.

Second weekend of SIWBA tourney dawns at Sunset

By VINNIE DUDLEY

The middle weekend of the 21st annual Staten Island Women's Bowling Association tournament is right around the corner, as the gals get ready for tomorrow's doings at the Sunset Lanes.

Last Saturday, honored guests were introduced and there were several speeches. The keynote of the meet was fun.

After the ceremonies the fun continued and good bowling started.

This weekend, the only things missing should be speeches and introduction—the fun and the good bowling should continue.

The official tabulation of last weekend's doings finds the addition of Linda Vachon to the singles gross list, in the Number 10 slot with a 692 gross based on a 449 net and a 153 bonus addition.

Jean Arpino is still atop the singles net and gross listing with a 577 net pinfall and a 661 gross (after adding 84 handicap pins).

Sandra Reilly with 523 net and 647 gross is second in the gross and third in the net.

Third place in the gross listing finds a tie between Barbara Harrington and Dolores Smith, who both have 625.

Dolores Smith holds down second place in the net class with 544.

In the doubles category Dolly Peters and Helen Eley continue on top of the gross with 1297 and the net with 1036.

They share first in the net group with the duet of Dorothy Morel and Del Velie who also have 1036 net pins.

Third in the Net is the team of Arlene Driscoll and Joan Ackaltis.

Ellen Lucia and Rita Connor moved up to second in the Gross and Arlene Driscoll and Joan Ackaltis took over third place after rescheduling last weekend's results.

Team listing remains unchanged as the gross list finds Mod Squad (2958) first, Riviera Chateau (2923) second and South Shore Ladies (2869) third.

The net grouping has the Keglerettes (2586) first, the Riviera Chateau (2591) second and the Mod Squad (2556) third.

Jim St. John paces Buckeye

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Jim St. John of San Jose, Calif., came on strong Thursday to take the 24-game lead in the Professional Bowlers Association's $8,000 Buckeye Open.

St. John, a six-time PBA champion, shot six-game blocks of 1446 and 1356 for a 5965 total in pacing 15 other semifinalists into today's match-game play.

Following 16 games today, the top five will move into Saturday's nationally televised finals with $6,000 going to the winner.

CYCLE MARK

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Frank Camilleri of Chelsea, Mass. set a track qualifying record of 134.831 miles an hour on his Yamaha motorcycle Thursday during trials preceding the 100-mile amateur race today.

Home edge favors Wilkinson

By TOM VALLEDOLMO

The "home edge" in sports is, at times, staggering. It's estimated that the home court advantage in basketball is worth close to 10 points.

In football, the edge isn't as pronounced, but it's no accident that teams traditionally do better on their own stomping grounds than on the road.

But what about bowling? How much of an edge does a bowler have when he's rolling in his own "house"?

That question will be answered tomorrow and Sunday when the best Staten Island survivor, in the New York City BPAA All - Star Tournament, Rab Wilkinson, takes on 15 of the metropolitan area's best in the Bowling on the Green.

Rab, who finished ninth in the 24-game qualifying round with a 4727 total (197 per game), thinks having the competition at the Green will be a help. . .but only for a while.

RAB WILKINSON

"It will help me to a certain extent," explains the affable Wilkinson, the proprietor of a bowling pro shop and sports store at 245 New Durp Lane, New Dorp, "but I can't kid myself. There are some pretty good bowlers in this thing and if there are any unusual lane conditions, they'll adjust to them in a hurry."

The biggest edge Wilkinson will have is a partisan crowd. He's a popular figure in Island circles and the relaxed atmosphere his supporters will create has to be a shot in the arm.

That, and the fact that Rab has been stroking well lately, projects him into the picture as a real threat to capture one of the three berths available in Mark's ABC All-Star tourney in Hialeah, Fla.

"I've changed my grip a little," Wilkinson, who is averaging 197 in the one league he bowls in at the Green, explained when asked about his recent surge, "and it seems to have helped.

"I've added more finger weight by using — and adjusting — lifts in the finger holes and I'm getting my ball to break a little later.

"The alleys around the Island run thinnest a lot, and the later you can get my ball to break, the better I like it.

"They resurfaced the lanes at the Green not long ago, though, so they may not look that much. Like I said before, it will all boil down to who can adjust to the conditions the quickest."

The 16 qualifiers will bowl eight head-to-head matches tomorrow and Sunday, one against each member of the field with the final game being a position match.

The winner of each game will get 50 bonus pins and total pinfall will decide which three go on to Florida for the national all-star tournament.

S.I. Indoor track meet: Three for the money

By PETE MANERI

"It's a tough meet to figure," remarked St. Peter's coach Pete Whitehouse of tomorrow's Staten Island Interscholastic Indoor Track and Field Championships.

And Whitehouse might have added that it will be even tougher to win.

Slated to get under way at 11 a.m. at the Monsignor Farrell High School Oakwood athletic complex, the competition is a virtual toss-up among the host Farrell outfit and clubs from New Dorp and St. Peter's.

Farrell, operating on its home track, is extremely deep in relay talent, and according to New Dorp coach Bill Welsh the Lions "are the team to beat."

The Oakwood outfit will go with two teams in the 880-yard, mile and two-mile relays, and would not be surprised to see upset if all of the combinations break into the scoring column.

This is not to say that Farrell will not send some fine individuals into the fray, however, as Dennis Monohan is set to run the mile and John Crea will operate in the half.

The 60-yard dash will find Farrell's Bill Stoddard and ex-footballer Mike Hall in line for some of the medals.

George Kochman, coach of the defending champions, sees the competition differently from Welsh.

"New Dorp is the team to beat," stated the youthful Kochman. "They're loaded in the relays — where it really counts."

The Centrals, who copped the Island's PSAL Indoor crown a month ago, also boast some impressive individuals who are capable of ending the afternoon in the winners' circle.

Mercurial Larry Cimato is scheduled to run the half-mile, while Joe Jankunis set for the 440-yard dash.

Jankunis will also join Frank Minutello in the high jump, but both will get considerable competition from McKee's Willie Terrell and Bob Kroon. The high-flying Sea Gulls both cleared 5-8 in last Saturday's Mayor's Meet.

New Dorp's Marty Walsh is listed for the two-mile run, but a recurrence of last fall's back injury has moved Walsh into the "doubtful" classification.

For St. Peter's it will be a case of a handful of top-notch individuals attempting to hold their own against greater numbers.

Dan Carroll will match Farrell's Monohan in the mile, while Ed Traks figures to cop the 60-yard high hurdles with only token opposition. Marty Gray could also score in the same event for the New Brighton Eagles.

Vin Waite is the pre-meet favorite in the two-mile run, and Don Gavrity has to get serious consideration in the half.

Curtis figures to score its share of points with a fistful of fine sprinters, while Port Richmond could surprise the front runners if such performers as Brian McCombsville (half mile) and Don Petrillo (two miles) regain some of their old form.

Tottenville coach Mike Marotta will send his sophomore-laden squad against the bigger boys, but the likes of Jim Brennan, Darrah Haarklau and Mike Christie should grab some points for the Tots.

4 leaders in golf have 4 outlooks

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — For U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino, happiness is money. For rookie Larry Hinson, who shares a one-stroke lead with Trevino, Tommy Aaron and Bruce Crampton going into today's second round of the $100,000 Monsanto Open, happiness is making the cut.

For perennial runner-up Aaron, happiness has to be winning a tournament after nine years on the tour.

A LONG DROUGHT

For Australia's Crampton, it's his young son Jay—and the chance of winning his first regular PGA tournament since the 1965 Indianapolis 500 Festival.

The four players, as different as sun and rain, all fired 67s Thursday over the wind-swept (?) Pensacola Country Club course to lead the field of 150 seeking the $20,000 first prize at this third stop on the rich Florida circuit.

Trevino's 33-34 came with five birdies, one bogey and some "awfully good putting."

The swarthy, 29-year-old quitter from El Paso, Tex., said the course is playing a stroke and a half harder since it was lengthened for the long-hitting touring pros.

PLAY ON A ROAD

"It's a 100 per cent better shape," Trevino said, "but I'd play on a gravel road if someone put up a $100,000 tournament."

"Happiness is money," said the former shoe shine boy who won more than $132,000 on the tour last year and added $20,000 more last month when he won at Tucson.

But for Hinson, a quiet 24-year-old blond from Douglas, Ga., success is making the 36-hole cut so he doesn't have to play in a qualifying round for the next tournament.

"I'm able to square up to the ball better," he said.

Cock wrists halfway

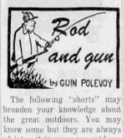
By Billy Casper

At the start of your back swing, the wrists remain as at address — straight — until later on when they begin to cock about half way up.

This passive beginning (illustrated) keeps the club face square to the intended line at this most important part of the swing.

Much of the "battle" for a good swing is won if the motion is started in this manner.

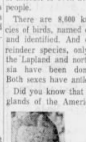
Driving tips from champion Billy Casper are yours in the free pamphlet, "The Fairway Drive." To get your copy, send your request, along with a stamped, return envelope, to Billy Casper, care of the Advance.



The following "shorts" may broaden your knowledge about the great outdoors. You may know some but they are always of interest to even non-outdoors people.

There are 8,600 known species of birds, named catalogued and identified. And of the 1000 reindeer species, only those of the Lapland and northern Russia have been domesticated. Both sexes have antlers.

Did you know that the salivary glands of the American short-tailed shrew contain a poison similar to that of a cobra?



GUN POLEVOY

And we have written stories about those catfish of the Amazon region of South America which reach a length of 10 feet and attain a weight of up 300 pounds. That's big for even a tuna, much bigger than "Charlie."

An exceptionally strong swimmer, the polar bear has been found at sea, miles from land or ice floes. And the habitat of the sand dollar, cousin to the sea-urchin, ranges from the low tide mark to 300 fathoms.

The American Brant, a small goose, breeds in the Canadian Arctic and winters in the waters of Long Island Sound and as far south as Chesapeake Bay. Some have even been seen further south.

An estimated 50,000 species of insects inhabit North America and more than 900,000 species inhabit the earth.

Female rabbits and hares are ready to breed again within 24 hours after producing a litter of young.

The insulation of a bird's feathers is reduced by an oil spot the size of a quarter, making the bird vulnerable to cold water.

And did you know that all spiders are carnivorous, subsisting mostly on insects, but one species eats only other spiders.

The home of the American lobster ranges approximately from Labrador to North Carolina from 20 to 50 miles along the coast.

Moose have poor eyesight but a highly efficient sense of hearing and smell. Maximum age range is estimated to be about 20 years.

A new born nymph, or drag-on-fly, is a wingless creature forced to breathe water through it's gills. It lives fully as an aquatic species when in this stage of it's life.

Harness writers honor Abbatiello

SPECIAL TO THE ADVANCE

WESTBURY, L.I. — Carmine Abbatiello, who usually drives them, was a winner himself at Roosevelt Raceway here last night.

The former Islander, who guided 128 horses to victory in the 1968 meeting here as top sulky driver, received the Al Bi White trophy.

The award, presented by the New York Harness Writers' Association, traditionally goes to the driver with the most victories at Roosevelt.

Even winners end up tied in NHL action

The National Hockey League has more ties than daddy on Christmas morning.

Toronto tripped Oakland 3-1 Thursday night to tie Detroit for fourth place in the East Division while Philadelphia edged Boston 2-1 and deadlocked Los Angeles for third place in the West.

In another contest, Montreal rallied to tie Minnesota 4-4 and open a three-point lead over Boston in the race for the East pennant.

Toronto scored in each period —Pat Quinn, Norm Ullman and George Armstrong were the marksmen—against Oakland before Joe Szura spoiled goalie Bruce Gamble's shutout bid with 35½ minutes left. The Leafs and Detroit both have 76 points.

UNBEATEN STREAK

Goals by Bill Sutherland in the first period and Jim Johnson in the second enabled Philadelphia to beat Boston. It was the Flyers' seventh straight game without a defeat.

Phil Esposito, Boston's record-setting scorer, got his 42nd goal and 110th point in the third period but the Flyers hung on to catch idle Los Angeles with 51 points.

That's four more than fifth-place Minnesota. The North Stars led Montreal 4-2 thanks to Ray Cullen's two goals.

Arrows looking toward playoffs

Smilly's Arrows, Staten Island's entry in the Brooklyn Junior Roller Hockey League, will be in action tomorrow, but they'll already be thinking about the next day.

The Arrows have already clinched second place and tomorrow's meeting with the Hawks will accomplish nothing more than a completion of the regular-season schedule before Sunday's playoffs.

The Arrows, 13-5-3 with this one game remaining, will meet the fourth-place Canadian Sustucks in the first game of a best-of-three semifinal playoff series.

The Islanders are led by high scorer John Ferrara, who has 25 goals to his credit, and Mike Cottrell, both all stars.

Tough sledding for U.S. ice six

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — The battered United States amateur ice hockey team flew here from Prague today for the most critical world championships it has ever faced-and went straight to the stadium for practice.

The players did not even go to their hotel.

That is the measure of just how badly this team needs practice together," said Wayne Dorsack, managing director of the United States Amateur Ice Hockey Association.

The Americans have been slaughtered in two games in two days in Czechoslovakia, scoring only one goal and conceding 17. Wednesday night's 6-1 defeat was against the Czech National junior team.
