

Dom LaBargo, Peggy Maguire Cop SIBPA Titles

By BILL McDONALD

The SIBPA Open Match Game Tournament is over and now the second guessing begins for many of the competitors, but not for the champs, Peggy Maguire and Dom LaBargo.

While Peggy's triumph was somewhat expected, the comeback victory of Dom's was a surprise. Dom came back with a vengeance Saturday night. He beat ing he would have to win every match and pile up the pins for Peteren points, he went out and did just that—won every match. Not only did he win every match, but he won 200 every game averaging 214.5 for the six games. Yet, with all this great bowling, the champion ship came down to the post-match with last week's leader, Angelo Mezzapacca. Angelo put up a good fight and really applied the pressure as he had strikes on his last six balls winding up with a 225 game. However, this was Dom's night as he met the challenger with strikes on his last five balls and a 228 game—barely edged out a win.

MORE than likely Angelo will be second guessing his 150 in the first match, which in retrospect, gave him his narrow margin of victory (2-1).

Vinnie Trucelli also came through with a spectacular comeback. Vin charged from 11th place in third. His comeback was paved by a 225 game, but even that was not sufficient to overtake LaBargo.

Greg Falk, the qualifying leader, had only one comment concerning his efforts: "I held the others up—last place."

There's nothing like a loser who bows out gracefully.

THE LADIES' champ, Peggy Maguire, led from start to finish but had some uneasy moments before putting the title away.

Dot Squasini, the runner-up, was sticking close to Peggy in the fifth match. Maguire ripped off a 230 game which Peggy just did beat with a 202.

But, a real tough competitor kept the pressure on Maguire.

THE CHAMPS will receive an expense the entry fee to the State Tourney, uniforms representing the SIBPA, traveling expenses, and a trophy. The champs will represent the Island in the State tourney at Johnson City, N. Y., in a few months, where they will have the opportunity to win more prizes.

FEARLESS FRALEY Casper Called Underated

MIAMI — Vic Ghent doesn't with the wedge and I'll take a bid, whether it's a 100 or a 10, because he was every bit as good.

"Tell me about putters and I have in hand I never saw a man read the speed of a green better than Ghent."

WHY THEN does the slammer have the short put jitters?

"He's like a good thing, though who has been coming up too much and is jittery and nervous," analyzed Ghent. "He just can't hold still. But I've seen Bobby Jones and Ben Hogan and I'd have to say that Sam was gifted with more concentration, rhythm and timing than any one. Watching him is like watching a ballet master or a great violinist at work."

On top of that you get the idea in chatting with the tall, handsome, blue-eyed, and smiling Sam is the best that ever came swinging down the putting green.

As for his own career, Ghent has a 100-win record at various golf events, recalls with a chuckle the time he was playing with Sam in the Los Angeles Open. Vic was sailing along three under in the second round, when, on the par-18th hole, he holed his ball with a stand of thick cedar trees.

"I want to see you play this time," uttered a woman spectator.

Well, maybe as good as Sam when he was younger and in his prime. Because Vic analyzes Sam thusly:

"Tell me about drivers and give me Sam because I've never seen a finer hitter."

"Tell me about a long iron, Blue, 88-90, scored his third straight triumph at Lincoln and I'll take broad because he's a natural. Saturday, nipping was just as good, and maybe Chance Date by a half length better."

"Tell me about Gene Sarazen."

"HA...HA..." the woman said.
